Dear Families,

Did you see the fabulous full moon this week? Brrrr!!! The weather has shifted once again. We do have a lending closet that has been revamped this week because students are coming to school unprepared. If your child borrowed from the closet, please wash it and return it. Outdoor fresh air is a requirement for our students. They will go outside unless it is raining or at a certain wind chill level, deemed age appropriate by the State departments of Children and Education. If possible, please leave a pair of snow pants here at school. They are used as wind protectors, not only for snow. An added plus is that it protects their uniform pants from getting dirty and muddy!

First trimester report cards will be handed out to families next week. Teachers have made themselves available to discuss your child's progress throughout the week, please take this opportunity to meet with them.

Thanksgiving food drive – we have a goal of 250 pounds of items collected between now and Nov 26. That's about 5 pounds per student. Keep in mind that toiletries, diapers, dog and cat food, pull tab cans, juice, boxed milk, dessert mixes and candy are always extra treats. Do you have extra squash, jams, jelly, maple syrup? Watch for those BOGO deals.

Christmas Shop – for our students, will be in December. If you have a closet full of gently used or duplicate toys, household items, scented candles, tools, outdoor games etc..... we will set up a room flea market style for students to buy items for their families. Donations will be accepted after Dec 1. We are in need of wrapping paper, gift bags of all sizes and gift tags. The cost will be a food pantry item or 25 cents. All proceeds will go to the Church Food Pantry. Date TBA.

Mass this week is Friday at 8:30.

There will be no school mass next week, since Father will be away. The following week is a short week, so our next school mass will be Dec 6 at 8:30AM when we will welcome Bishop John to our community. So, invite a friend, a neighbor or pick up a senior from a nursing home and come worship with us on Dec 6, the feast day of Saint Nicholas!

Concert Dec 11 at 6:00 PM.
